Nixon in '69 Asked Study Of Ex-Presidents' Taxes Continued From Page 1, Col. 7 been asked by Mr. Nixon to

Wanted Staff Members Given Access to Learn of His Predecessors' Deductions -Congressional Unit Has Memo

NYTimes

by eileen shanahan MAR 1 2 1974 Special to The New York Times had taken, according to an vance rulings on the legality of internal White House memorangressional investigators.

any returns of past Presidents, any other individual's returns. but the spokesman added that he had "no idea" whether any Mr. Nixon's interest in his pred-Presidential assistants had seen ecessor' tax deductions for anyone in Internal Revenue gan, then Mr. Ehrlichman's depto make available to Mr. Nixon uty. or his staff the returns of former Presidents. That section was obtained by The New York prohibits disclosure of informa- Times. tion from any tax return for other than specified, authorized purposes.

WASHINGTON, March 11- Helping someone to find out President Nixon suggested in what other taxpayers in a simi-June, 1969, that members of lar position have been allowed his staff be given access to the to do is not such a purpose. tax returns of former Presi-The Internal Revenue Service dents so he could learn what has a regular procedure wheredeductions his predecessors by taxpayers may ask for addum now in the hands of Con- pects of their tax returns. But these rulings do not involve A White House spokesman disclosure to anyone outside said Mr. Nixon had not seen the I.R.S. of the contents of

The memorandum disclosing dated June 16, 1969 and written Under Section 7213 of the by John D. Ehrlichman, then Internal Revenue Code, it prob- counsel to the President. It was ably would have been illegal addressed to Edward L. Mor-

A copy of the memorandum

The memorandum, which in-Continued on Page 21, Column 1

Among these were the pos-Among these were the pos-sibility of taking deductions for business use of all or part of his houses in San Clemente and when assistant to the Commis-Key Biscayne, which he subsequently did take.

says: "The President holds the view that a public man does very little of a personal nature. Vir. Mr. tually all of his entertainment and activity is related to his business.' He wants to be sure that his business deduction include all alowable items. For instance, wedding gifts to Con-gressmen's daughters, flowers at funerals, etc. He has in mind that there is some kind of a $25 limitation on such expenses.

He suggests that we might review the returns of one more previous Presidents for guidance."

Gerald L. Warren, the deputy White House press secretary, said, in response to an inquiry, that "I know the President himdidn't review any returns of past Presidents."

Mr. Warren added: "I have no dea" whether Mr. Ehrlichmer or Mr. Morron over sure man or Mr. Morgan ever saw any returns of past Presidents. 'A Little Research'

Mr. Ehrlichman, who was reached by telephone at his home in Seattle, said he had "never heard this brought up" "never heard this brought up" that he could recall and that he would "have to do a little research" before being able to respond."

"I just don't have June, 1969 memos in my head," he said.
"Attempts to reach Mr. Morgan by telephone, both in Washington and California, were unsuccessful.

successful.
The documents which have been given to the Congressional Joint Committee that has directly quotes Mr. Nixon stady his tax returns for the years 1969-1972 and decide throughout, details a number of questions that Mr. Nixon was also disclose the following: study his tax returns for the said to have had concerning Mr. Nixon wanted to pay ways in which he could reduce his daughter, Julie Eisenhower, his tax payments.

Among these were the pos-lad wat that are a "business and to have made and the could reduce the pos-lad wat that are a "business and to have a could be said to h sioner of Internal Revenue. Barth feared that the arrange-In addition, the memorandum been publicized that Julie was working as an unpaid volunteer.

Mr. Bartn, fr. Ehrlichman's memo > what could and could not be taken as deductions by the President. offered his own President, offered his own services to help with the President's tax returns.

Mr. Barth would presumably have performed this function while remaining on the I.R.S. payroll.

His reply, addressed to Mr. Morgan and dated July 16, 1969, suggested that Mr. Nixon retain "a regular accountant" retain "a regular accountant" to "handle the day-to-day record-keeping" on his financial and tax matters

"Once he [the accountant] is picked, I could work closely with him in establishing procedures and in handling problems as they arise," Mr. Barth wrote.