

APR 11 1974

Julie Nominated

As Publishing

Firm Director

SF Chronicle
New York

Julie Nixon Eisenhower has been nominated as a director of the Curtis Publishing Co., publisher of the Saturday Evening Post.

Mrs. Eisenhower, 25, is listed in the proxy statement for the forthcoming meeting of Curtis as one of the seven candidates for the board. As of last February 12, the President's daughter did not own any stock in the company.

Mrs. Eisenhower is an associate editor of the Post, earning $10,000 a year.

New York Times