

NYTimes APR 15 1974
Nixon Supporter Used
Password to Kiss Him

DETROIT, April 14 (UPI) —Mrs. Robert Zako of Detroit managed to kiss President Nixon during his campaign swing through Michigan last week by murmuring "M.C.S.P. 227" to one of his advance men.

The Detroit News reported today that the President's advance men used a secret password system to provide Mr. Nixon's friends a chance to get close to him.

Mrs. Zako, a housewife, told The News she gave the code word to a "young agent named John or Keith" when her group of Nixon supporters arrived at the airport in Saginaw last Wednesday.

The agent persuaded Mr. Nixon to delay his departure long enough to give a special greeting to Mrs. Zako's group, and "that's when I got the chance to kiss him," she said.