

TRAXLER TO AWAIT EVIDENCE ON NIXON

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — Representative - elect J. Bob Traxler, the first Democrat to win Michigan's Eighth Congressional District seat today that he would take no stand on impeaching President Nixon until the House Judiciary Committee completed its findings.

Mr. Traxler's narrow victory last week over his Republican opponent, James M. Sparling Jr., for whom Mr. Nixon personally campaigned, was seen by many as a referendum on the President—with the result adding impetus to the impeachment drive.

But Mr. Traxler, who was interviewed on the Columbia Broadcasting System's television program "Face the Nation," said he regarded "the whole issue of Mr. Nixon's remaining or going" as "a judicial question."

"I perceive myself as a grand juror, sitting in the House," he said. "I will read the committee's report and make an independent determination as to whether or not he ought to stand trial in the Senate."
