

Do not have clipping. From NYT Index:

Representative Angelo D. Roncallo was acquitted [presumably 17 May] of extortion charges by a Federal jury in Westbury, L.I., and promptly announced that he would ask the House of Representatives to investigate his indictment and would institute a suit against those responsible for it. Mr. Roncallo and a co-defendant were acquitted on all four counts of an indictment charging them with pressuring a businessman to make a $1,000 political donation.
