Post Is Going to Have Its Problems' - Nixor

Following is part of the material omitted from the White House transcript of a Sept. 15, 1972, conversation between President Nixon, his chief of staff, H. R. Halde-man, and his counsel, John W. Dean III. The material was obtained from sources in-volved in the House Judiciary volved in the House Judiciary Committee's investigation of grounds for the impeachment of Mr. Nixon.

Haldeman: The Post (unintelligible)-

President: It's going to have its problems— Haldeman: . (Unintelligible) Dean: (Unintelligible) The Maury coming back three days in a row and (unintel-ligible)

President: That's right. The main, main thing is The Post is going to have damnable, damnable problems out of this one. They have a television station---

Dean: That's right, they do. President: and they're going to have to get it re-newed.

Haldeman: They've got a radio station, too. President: Does that come does it come up? Dean: I don't know. But the practice of nonlicensees has contained of the practice of nonlicensees has certainly gotten more, President: That's right.

Dean: More active in the, this area.

President: And it's going to be God damn active here.
