WASHINGTON, May 23 — President Nixon will probably make a radio address to the nation over the weekend on economic policy.

The President met with his top economic advisers today.
Prior to the meeting Gerald L.
Warren, the deputy White House press secretary, told reporters that "you can expect that some time in the near future the President will be speaking out on the subject of the economy."

Later, officials indicated that the speech would be on the radio this coming weekend.
