

Panel Vote to Impeach Won't Surprise Ziegler

CAYNE, Fla., May 27 (UPI) — Ronald L. Ziegler, the White House press secretary, said today that a House Judiciary Committee vote recommending President Nixon's impeachment "will come as no surprise."

"I don't think anyone feels that the House Judiciary Committee will not vote out a resolution," he said. "That will come as no surprise. I think the nature of the committee and the approach of the House Judiciary Committee staff . . . makes it certain that this matter will be settled on the House floor."

Mr. Ziegler refused to answer a question whether Mr. Nixon would obey a Supreme Court ruling that he turn over subpoenaed Watergate tapes to Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski.
