

Have They Switched?

Editor — Have the Nixons possibly switched political party affiliations and joined the Democratic party? Your recent front-page story ostentatiously displaying the first family's jewelry indicates a change in the President's attitude from the Richard Nixon of the '50s who spoke with such pride and bravado of Pat's good Republican cloth coat.

It must be assumed that these precious stones are necessary accouterments to complement the modest San Clemente and Key Biscayne dwellings.
