

Analyses of 7 Phone Tap Reports

WASHINGTON, July 18—Following are the texts of seven analyses by the House Judiciary Committee of raw reports, prepared by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and sent to the White House, of telephone conversations of Government officials and newsmen that were intercepted between May, 1969, and February, 1971.

Letter codes were used for the seven individuals of the 17 whose conversations were tapped. The seven have been identified by Rolling Stone magazine (and confirmed by The New York Times) as follows:

Mr. B.—Helmut Sonnenfeldt, former National Security Council official, now counselor to Secretary of State Kissinger; Mr. C.—Richard L. Sneider, former deputy Assistant Secretary of State for East Asia and Pacific Affairs, now acting assistant secretary for the same area; Mr. I.—Richard Moose, former National Security Council official, now a consultant to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Mr. K.—Winston Lord, former National Security Council official, now director of policy, planning and coordination for the State Department; Mr. L.—Anthony Lakee, former National Security Council official, later a campaign aide to Senator Edmund S. Muskie, now a private consultant; Mr. N.—Morton H. Halperin, former National Security Council official, now a consultant to the American Civil Liberties Union; Mr. O.—Daniel I. Davidson, former National Security official, now a Washington lawyer in private practice.

Mr. B.

A summary addressed to Henry Kissinger on May 29, 1969, reported that Mr. B., a member of the National Security Council staff, has been in contact with a newspaper reporter who had had numerous contacts with individuals assigned to Soviet-bloc embassies.

Mr. C.

None of the summaries furnished to the House Judiciary Committee contained references to information obtained by the electronic surveillance of Mr. C., a member of the National Security Council staff.

Mr. I.

None of the summaries furnished to the House Judiciary Committee contained references to information obtained by the electronic surveillance of Mr. I., a member of the National Security Council staff.

Mr. K.

A total of eight summaries of information obtained from a wiretap on Mr. K., a member of the National Security Council staff, were sent to H. R. Haldeman between May 14, 1970 and Dec. 28, 1970. The summaries reported only conversations regarding Mr. K.'s dissatisfaction with his job and some of the decisions being made. One summary reported on the political activity of an acquaintance of K. In addition, a summary dated Nov. 3, 1970, was addressed to Mr. Kissinger and reported a conversation in which the parties made uncomplimentary remarks about Mr. Kissinger and the President.

None of the summaries reported on discussions of classified material. Detailed material contained in the summaries has been withheld from publication by the House Judiciary Committee to protect the privacy of the individuals involved.

Mr. L.

H. R. Haldeman received 28 reports between May 14, 1970 and Feb. 10, 1971 from the electronic surveillance of Mr. L., an employee of the National Security Council. The summaries reported the prospects that Mr. L. and others could secure employment with Democratic politicians. The later summaries reported the activities of certain potential Democratic candidates for national office by whom Mr. L. was then employed. Some summaries reported contacts between Mr. L. and journalists.

None of the summaries reported on discussions of classified material. Detailed material contained in the summaries has been withheld from publication by the House Judiciary Committee to protect the privacy of the individuals involved.

Mr. N.

A total of 27 summaries were prepared from the electronic surveillance of Mr. N.: eleven were addressed to the President starting on Aug. 8, 1969 and ending on May 11, 1970; two were addressed to Dr. Kissinger in May and October, 1969; and sixteen were addressed to H. R. Haldeman starting on May 14, 1970 and ending on Jan. 29, 1971. The summaries reported conversations between Mr. N. and journalists, representatives of special interest groups and members of politicians' staffs expressing opposition to the Vietnam war. The summaries also reported the activities of potential Democratic candidates as those activities were mentioned to Mr. N. and the activities Presidency by whom Mr. N. was employed in the latter part of the time covered by the wiretap. One summary reported Mr. N.'s refusal to follow a suggestion that he leak to a journalist a statement by Kissinger.

None of the summaries reported on discussions of classified material. Detailed material contained in the summaries has been withheld from publication by the House Judiciary Committee to protect the privacy of the individuals involved.

Mr. O.

The President received summaries on May 28, 1969, July 25, 1969, Aug. 1, 8, and 14, 1969 and Sept. 3, 1969, and Henry Kissinger received a report dated May 20, 1969 with respect to the electronic surveillance of Mr. O., a former National Security Council staff member. The majority of the summaries reported contacts between Mr. O. and journalists. Although some of the discussions involved foreign policy negotiation, none of them revealed classified information.

None of the summaries reported on discussions of classified material. Detailed material contained in the summaries has been withheld from publication by the House Judiciary Committee to protect the privacy of the individuals involved.
