

Dean Among Witnesses Summoned for Strachan

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—John W. Dean 3d and Jeb Stuart Magruder are among those summoned to testify at a pretrial hearing for Gordon Strachan in the Watergate cover-up case July 29, according to papers filed today in United States District Court.

Mr. Strachan, once an assistant to the former White House chief of staff, H. R. Haldeman, is among six persons who face trial Sept. 9 on charges of covering up involvement in the original Watergate case.

Mr. Strachan's lawyers say he was once granted immunity from prosecution with the promise that any evidence he turned over would never be used against him.

Among witnesses sought by Mr. Strachan are members of the original Watergate prosecution team, including United States Attorney Earl J. Silbert; Samuel Dash, chief counsel for the Senate Watergate committee, and three assistant special Watergate prosecutors.
