

NYTimes JUL 29 1974

Ex-Ervin Aide Wins Carolina Nomination

RALEIGH, N.C., July 28 (AP)—Rufus L. Edmisten, former special counsel to the Senate Watergate committee and aide to Senator Sam J. Erwin Jr., the committee chairman, has won the Democratic nomination for Attorney General of North Carolina.

Mr. Edmisten, 33 years old, was chosen yesterday by the State Democratic Executive Committee from among eight active candidates. Although he led from the outset, he was not selected until the sixth ballot.

Mr. Edmisten, in his first bid for public office, will face James H. Carson Jr., a Republican, in the November general election.