

Illinois congressman Robert McClory, the second-ranking Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, says his party will oppose moves in the House to endorse the committee's report recommending former President Nixon's impeachment. Many Democrats say the full House should take action on the report, but McClory says Republicans are eager to avoid a sharp partisan floor debate on impeachment.

[Complete.]