
Ye Olde Pressroom

Alexandria, Va.

President Ford's across-the-street neighbors have decided to cope with a lawn full of newsmen by converting their garage into the "Virginia White House press room — Ye Olde Alexandria Branch."

Peter Abbruzzesi, an aide to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, posted a sign and invited the reporters and photographers to use his garage as a temporary headquarters for their coverage of Mr. Ford's comings and goings from his suburban Virginia home.
