

Boy Scouts Come to Nixon's Aid

San Clemente

The garden has been cleaned up at Richard Nixon's place.

Since Mr. Nixon returned and went into seclusion following his resignation August 9, the garden outside the wall surrounding his seaside estate had gone untended and was becoming something of an eyesore to residents of adjoining Cyprus Shores, an expensive housing area.

Former Mayor Howard Massie organized a cleanup drive, without Mr. Nixon's knowledge.

29 AUG
Two dozen Boy Scouts spent the day Thursday pulling up weeds and tidying the grounds, under the direction of scoutmaster John Mitchell.

United Press