Bar Considers

Ex-Nixon Aide

Columbia, S.C.

Harry Dent, former White House southern strategist under former President Richard Nixon, will be the subject of discussion by the South Carolina Bar board of grievances and discipline January 10.

The board, which considers grievances against South Carolina attorneys, will discuss possible action against Dent, who pleaded guilty in November to a misdemeanor in connection with a 1970 GOP fund-raising effort. He served as a Nixon aide at the time of the incident.
