

HERB CAEN

Mutters and Mumbles

RABBI BARUCH KORFF, a Nixon buddy who's a bit weird even by the standard of Nixon buddies, is trying to expand his U.S. Citizens Congress from 2300 members in the L.A. area to two million on the West Coast, "all dedicated," according to reports, "to honoring the Nixon name and working for a strong chief executive and control of the news media" . . . I don't know what you call it, dearie, but I call it fascism . . . That itchy feeling: Nor can I hear a commercial for Preparation H without the suspicion that we are being prepared, subliminally as hell, for Hubert Horatio Humphrey . . . Good long-range bet: Kennedy and Jackson heading the Demo ticket next year, but the latter's nickname of "an honorable journalistic term," . . . What scoop did Jackson . . . Gordon Losee, . . . Long Wars of San . . . a tong . . .
