Face the Nation (CBS)
transcribed from tape

21 Dec 75

Guest: Attorney General Edward H. Levi

.....

Fred Graham: Mr. Levi, have there been discussions recently of - discussions between the Justice Department and former President Richard Nixon's attorneys about the possibility that the Government will pay for lawyers for him in civil suits?

Levi: There have been some discussions, and those discussions are going on.

Graham: Do you think that the Government will do that?

Levi: I think I have to wait to see how those discussions go.

Graham: So it's being considered.

Levi: Yes.

(There was no further discussion of this during the program. General report on Levi's remarks by NYT is filed Ford Ad.)
