

GULF IS CONSIDERING RESPONSE TO REPORT

Special to The New York Times
JAN 14 1976

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13—Directors of the Gulf Oil Corporation continued to meet tonight in an extraordinary session as they considered their response to a court-ordered report that was critical of the company's illegal political activities.

The meeting began at 4 P.M. yesterday, continued through last evening and resumed at 9 o'clock this morning. A Gulf spokesman said this afternoon that a statement from the board would be issued later in the day. By early evening, however, it had become apparent that the directors could not conclude their discussions at an early hour and the statement was postponed.

There was no indication whether the meeting would continue tomorrow or what action the directors might take. It is believed that they might adopt a number of recommendations contained in a court-ordered report about Gulf's political activities that was issued Dec. 30.
