Director of MCA, 68, Dies in
Los Angeles After Surgery

NYTimes

Taft B. Schreiber, national co-chairman of the President Ford Committee and a director and member of the executive committee of MCA Inc., died yesterday in Los Angeles as a result of complications following surgery. He was 68 years old.

Mr. Schreiber, who was born in Chicago, joined MCA in 1926, the year it was founded by Jules Stein, and became involved in most of its entertainment operations and corporate affairs. He was elected a director in 1969 and was a former vice president.

Last fall, President Ford appointed Mr. Schreiber, who had long been active in Republican Party affairs, to the National Heart and Lung Advisory Council of the National Institutes of Health.

Aided Ford Fund Drive

As co-chairman of the President Ford Committee, Mr. Schreiber helped lead a fundraising campaign for the election of the President.

In 1969, Mr. Schreiber was named a trustee of the Richard M. Nixon Foundation, which led to his involvement in planning a library and museum complex to honor the former President.

A strong supporter of cultural and civic affairs, Mr. Schreiber was, until recently, a trustee of the Joseph H. Hirschhorn Museum in Washington; a trustee of the Los Angeles County Art Museum, a member of the board of overseers of the Huntington Library in Pasadena, Calif., and a member of the International Council of the Museum of Modern Art here.

Mr. Schreiber, a leader of the Jewish community in Los Angeles and a philanthropist, was a benefactor of the Cedars' Sinai Medical Center, of the Music Center and of Hebrew Union College, all in Los Angeles, and of the Jules Stein Eye Institute in Westwood, Calif.

Mr. Schreiber is survived by his wife, Rita, of Beverly Hills, Calif.; a son, Toby I. Schreiber of San Francisco; a daughter, Lenore Greenberg of Beverly Hills; a brother, Robert, of Sherman Oakes, Calif.; two sisters, Lillian Morton of Los Angeles and Ruth Rodkin of Miami Beach, Fla., and seven grandchildren.
