

SFChronicle JUL 14 1976

Pat Nixon Now Walking

Long Beach

Pat Nixon, partially paralyzed by a stroke, graduated yesterday from simple arm and leg therapy to walking and standing at least once a day.

She began arm and leg strengthening exercises at her bedside Monday with the aid of a physical therapist, and yesterday, standing and walking once or twice a day was added to her regimen, said Dr. John Lungren, the Nixons' personal physician.

United Press