

Pat Nixon goes home

LONG BEACH — Pat Nixon is home in San Clemente, ending 16 days of hospitalization for a stroke. she joked, pointing to her husband.

The former First Lady is still partially paralyzed on her left side, her doctor said, but has made "rapid and remarkable recovery due to her efforts to help herself."

Mrs. Nixon smiled and waved to about 50 persons as former President Nixon, flanked by their daughters, Julie and Tricia, pushed the wheelchair through the doors of Long Beach Memorial Hospital Friday. "I feel fine, but I'm a little worried about the driver,"
