

Ford Names Delegation To the U.N.

Washington

Senator Howard H. Baker, Jr. of Tennessee, one of the "finalists" whom President Ford did not pick as his vice presidential running mate, and Senator George McGovern (Dem-S.D.) were among the ten-member delegation named by Mr. Ford yesterday for the United Nations General Assembly session beginning September 21.

Headed by William Scranton, chief delegate to the United Nations, the representatives also include W. Tapley Bennett Jr., former ambassador to Portugal and the Dominican Republic, who is Scranton's present deputy and U.S. representative to the Security Council, and the Rev. Robert P. Hupp, a Roman Catholic priest who is director of Boys Town in Nebraska.

Alternate representatives for the General Assembly session are Albert W. Sherer, present deputy representative to the Security Council; Jacob M. Myersen, representative to the Economic and Social Council; Nancy V. Rawls, recently assigned to the delegation after serving as ambassador to Togo; Stephen Hess of the Brookings Institution in Washington and Esra Hines Poston, former chairman of the New York state Civil Service Commission.

New York Times

---