

$400 Ehrlichman sketch

MIDDLE ISLAND, N.Y. — Former White House aide John Ehrlichman's sketch of a boiler room in his Arizona prison brought $400 yesterday at an auction to help a group of Long Island fifth-graders visit Canada. The buyer was an unidentified man from nearby St. James, reportedly a dealer in esoteric items. Ehrlichman's sketch and an accompanying letter were among hundreds of celebrity-donated objects put on the block by a 28-year-old teacher and 100 eager students.
