Mitchell Gets 30 More Days Out of Prison

Washington

Former Attorney General John N. Mitchell, out of prison on a medical furlough since Christmas, was granted another month's extension of freedom yesterday to undergo a hip operation.

Mitchell will go to Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City in mid-April for the surgery, which involves replacement of his right hip. Dr. Frank E. Stinchfield, professor of orthopedic surgery at the center, will perform the operation.
