Hamburg, Germany, Dec. 22 (AP)- The West German illustrated magazine, Stern, announced today it will publish a complete and unabridged serialization of the book, "The Death of a President."

Henri Nannen, editor in chief of the magazine, said Stern's serialization rights had not been affected by Look magazine's agreement in New York last night to remove or modify passages in the book relating to the personal life of Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children.

Nannen said Stern had paid $72,000 for the German serialization rights, and the contract between Stern and Look did not provide for any changes or cutting of the text.

A Stern spokesman said serialization will begin in the edition of the magazine appearing on West German news stands Jan. 10. <sup>2</sup> (17 74?)
