

PHOTO CONTRADICTS BOOK: Photograph published by The Boston Globe shows Kenneth P. O'Donnell at the right, with Mrs. John F. Kennedy next to President Johnson as he took the oath in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. In his book, "The Death of a President," Wiliam Manchester said Mr. O'Donnell was not present at ceremony but in corridor outside room.

Photo Rebuts Manchester on Johnson Ceremony

BOSTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Boston Globe reproduced today a photograph showing Kenneth P. O'Donnell, then a White House assistant, standing beside Mrs. John F. Kennedy when President Johnson took the oath off office in Dallas on Nov. 22 Mr. Manchester pictured Mr. Manchester pictured Mr. wanted Mrs. Kennedy to attend the ceremony. "I objected to her being there for the swearing-in. I said she had been through enough," he recalled, adding, "the President of the swearing in the control of the swearing in the sw House assistant, standing beside Mrs. John F. Kennedy when President Johnson took the oath of office in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

In his book, "The Death of A President," William Manchester reported that Mr. O'Donnell as pacing a corridor, "his hands clapped against his ears as though to block the oath." In connection with publication of The Globe photograph, which The Globe said had never been published, shows Mr. O'Donnell standing behind and slightly to the left of Mrs. Kennedy.

Asked, when he testified before the Warren commission, whether he had been present at the ceremony, Mr. O'Donnell and replied, "I was."

He Says He Was There

Mr. Manchester pictured Mr. O'Dondell as pacing a corridor, "I went to the bedroom and told her that in my judgment she shouldn't. I told her it would be too much for her. Jackie said, "I think I ought to." "We then left and I took her up to where the swearing-in. I said she had been through enough," he recalled, adding, "the President."

"I went to the bedroom and told her that in my judgment she shouldn't. I told her it would be too much for her. Jackie said, "I was thore," was to take place. That's how lass the three whole time."

He Says He Was There

for the swearing-in. I said she had been through enough," he recalled, adding, "the President."

"I went to the bedroom and told her that in my judgment she shouldn't. I told her it would be too much for her. Jackie said, "I think I ought to."

"We then left and I took her up to where the swearing-in. I said she had been through the vecalled, adding, "the President."

"I went to the bedroom and told her that in my judgment she shouldn't. I told her it would be too much for her. Jackie said, "I think I ought to."

"We then left and I took her up to where the swearing-in. I said she had been through the door it."

"I went to the bedroom and told her that in my judgment she shouldn't. I told her that in my judgment she shouldn't. I told her that in my judgment she shouldn't. I told her that in my judgment she shouldn't. I told h