 revenge . . .

The Tears Of Autumn by Charles McCarry, a novel filled with spine-tingling suspense and intrigue. Did the documented American complicity in the bloody overthrow of South Vietnam's President, Ngo Dinh Diem, November 1, 1963 result in the revenge assassination of President John F. Kennedy, November 22, 1963? McCarry, author of the acclaimed, Miernik Dossier, explores this possibility in his thrilling new book. An action-packed novel where exotic locales, unforgettable characters and chilling adventure are skillfully blended to create a spellbinding tale of revenge and terror. 7.95
