

AP Wirephoto

NEWEST TOURIST attraction in Dallas was the 6-by-4-foot window of the Texas School Depository Building from which Lee Harvey Oswald allegedly shot President John F. Kennedy. Building owner Aubrey Mayhew (above) opened the building to the public, and charged admission.