JFK Death Is Quietly Remembered

Dallas

The 11th anniversary of the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy was quietly marked yesterday with prayers, the laying of a wreath, a eulogy by Mayor Wes Wise and sacred music at the Kennedy Memorial.

"President Kennedy championed unpopular causes, but his integrity made him a popular man," Wise said before laying a wreath on the stone centerpiece in the rectangular memorial, about 400 yards from where Kennedy was shot.

At the Arlington National Cemetery across the Potomac river from the nation's capital, Kennedy's brother, Senator Edward M. Kennedy (Dem-Mass.) and Ethel Kennedy, widow of the other slain Kennedy brother, Robert, laid flowers on the dead President's grave and prayed for five minutes in a chill wind. Then they walked a short distance to Robert Kennedy's grave and placed flowers there also.
