

Rifle (Carcano) (Klein ad)

R, 119/1

According to its microfilm records, Klein's received an order for a rifle on March 13, 1963, on a coupon clipped from the February 1963 issue of the American Rifleman magazine. The order coupon was signed, in handprinting, "A Hidell, P.O. box 2815, Dallas, Texas."

R, 81/3

The rifle is 40.2 inches long and weighs 8 pounds. The minimum length broken down is 34.8 inches, the length of the wooden stock. /Description mentions scope and sling, but not a clip./

Klein order showing C20-T750 (C2766) shipped to Hidell Mar. 20, 1963.

Waldman Exh. 7 CE788, money order

Possibility: American Rifleman for February could have been on stands late in January. When order rec'd from Hidell (postmarked Mar. 12) Klein might have been out of stock of 36" rifles listed in Feb. ad, and substituted T38 rec'd from Crescent.

Question: What is overall length/weight of T38?

Question: If this was a substitution,
why not say so?

Check Waldman testimony, VII 360.

From FBI report tracing origin and sale of C2766 to Klein's:

Original List of Serial Numbers of 700 Carcano Italian Carbines Received by Century Arms, Incorporated, from Empire Wholesale Sporting Goods Limited Montreal, Quebec, Canada. Serial Number 2766 Appears on Last Page of Numbers (Exhibit D 103)

The above list accompanied Empire Wholesale Sporting Goods, Limited, invoice No. 1078. The top of the first page bears notations "Carcano," "Case #'s," and "Italian Carbines." It is noted on pages one through six there are 25 serial numbers listed to each case. On page seven there are listed 50 serial numbers to each case. In addition, the top of the last page bears a notation "Italian Carbine 46"."

According to its microfilm records, Klein's received an order for a rifle on March 13 1963, on a coupon clipped from the February 1963 issue of the American Rifleman magazine.

No footnote number given for this page of the magazine, so apparently it is not reproduced in the exhibits. (Have not found it so far, if it is included.)

- 1) The Commission did not obtain a copy of this issue, or a sample of the page, or
- 2) The Commission did not wish to have a reproduction of the page included in the exhibits.

Have found no mention of the length and weight of the rifle advertised in February 1963. Check testimony of William J. Waldman - is this point brought out?

Pox list, Dec. 2, 1963, of items taken from Paine house, shows "2 magazine ads, Klein's Sporting Goods", but no dates given for the advertisements. Not the ad in question? Was coupon cut out?
