
Jackie's Caribbean Vacation

New York

Jacqueline Kennedy left Kennedy International Airport late yesterday for a two-week vacation at Antigua in the British West Indies.

Mrs. Kennedy was accompanied by her children, Caroline and John, a nursemaid, a Secret Service agent and a child identified as C. Nelson, a friend of Caroline.

Mrs. Kennedy, hatless, wore a plain black cloth coat and her skirt fashionably above the knee. She declined to answer reporters' questions or to pose for photographers.
