

SFChronicle SEP 17 1975

Jackie's New Job—Editor

New York

Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis joined the Viking Press as a consulting editor yesterday, the president of the publishing firm said.

The 46-year-old widow of former President John F. Kennedy and Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis will have an office in the firm's Madison avenue headquarters.

But Thomas H. Guinzburg, president of Viking, said: "It really remains to be seen what part of how many days she spends here. We hope she'll spend a lot of time in the office."

Associated Press