

Give Up Guns, Alioto Urges

Mayor Joseph Alioto called on San Franciscans yesterday to relinquish their hand guns as a special tribute to the slain Senator Robert F. Kennedy.

Standing before a Flag draped with black ribbon streamers, the Mayor said he was declaring the week of July 4 to be one of "amnesty" during which all small weapons could be turned in at the city's various police stations and "no questions asked."

A vigorous and articulate proponent of strong gun-control laws, the Mayor made his appeal for voluntary individual action at his
