

Three 'Polka Dot' Women 'Surrender'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Three women — one a belly dancer — turned themselves in to police yesterday, each claiming to be the "girl in the polka dot dress" sought for questioning about the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

All three were released without being charged.

The hunt for the dark-haired girl seen running from the Ambassador Hotel shouting, "We shot him!" continued today. Police traced every lead connected with the murder, no matter how frivolous it appeared.

Kathy Fulmer, a 19-year-old Los Angeles belly dancer, called the sheriff's department yesterday afternoon and asked to be picked up.

Los Angeles police revealed that two other women claiming to be the girl in the white voile dress had been questioned yesterday. They would give no information about the two because of the court-ordered news blackout.

The all points bulletin for the mystery girl was released after a Kennedy campaign worker, Sandy Serrano, 20, said she had seen the girl fleeing from the hotel just after Kennedy was shot.
