

Young Lincoln Scholar Pays Tribute in an Ad

Steven Carson, a Lincoln scholar who is working for a master's degree in history at New York University, paid tribute to the President in a memorial published in The New York Times today.

Mr. Carson, 22 years old, has been accepted for study toward a doctorate in history at The Johns Hopkins University. He is a member of the Civil War Round Table, the New York Historical Society and the American Historical Association. He lives at 1645 Grand Concourse, the Bronx.

"LINCOLN, President Abraham. Assassinated 100 years ago today. May his life continue to be an inspiration to the world and may scholars continue to end the myths so that the greater truth might live.

"LINCOLN, Pres Abraham. Assassinated 100 years ago today. May his life continue to be an inspiration to the world and may scholars continue to end the myths so that the greater truth might live."

NYT

4/14/65