Federal agents staged what they described as the largest nationwide narcotics raid in history last night and today, arresting 130 persons and seizing heroin and cocaine valued at about $2.5-million on the retail market.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell said that the target was a nationwide ring of wholesalers handling about 30 to 80 per cent of all cocaine sales and about 30 per cent of all heroin sales and 75 per cent of all heroin sales and 75 per cent of all heroin sales and 75 per cent of all heroin sales and 75 per cent of all heroin sales in the United States.

Simultaneous raids were made at 10 o'clock last night and at 3 o'clock this morning in New York City, Newark, Hartford, Chicago, Washington, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, and New Orleans.

In addition to the drugs, narcotics agents also seized $19,875 in cash, 23 automobiles and 14 weapons in the raids.

New York City led the field with 33 pounds of heroin and cocaine, wholesaling at $250,000, and valued at about $2.5-million on the retail market.

Agents previously seized more than 62 pounds of the narcotics, with a retail value of about $3 million, in the six-month investigation leading to the simultaneous raids.
