2 Identified as Klansmen-Jury Inquiry to Go On

By MARTIN WALDRON Special to The New York Times

HOUSTON, June 11—A state grand jury investigating right-wing terrorism in Houston in-dicted four young men on bombing charges today. Two of those indicted have been publicly identified by a leader of the Ku Klux Klan as being than members. The grand jury has also been considering charges against six others and is expected to resume its deliberations on Monday

Those indicted today Inose indicted today were accused of the dynamiting of radio station KPFT, which is operated by the Pacifica Foun-dation, and of the pipe-bomb-ing of the headquarters of the Socialist Workers party in were Workers party Houston.

Assistant District Attorney Warren A. White said he be-lieved that today's indictments lieved that today's indictments would halt, at least temporarily, terrorist activities in Houston. "I think it has been made evident that if a person com-mits this type crime, he lays himself open for indictment, trial and conviction," he said in a statement.

in a statement. The Pacifica radio station in Houston and the local Socialist headquarters have been freheadquarters nave been ire-quent targets of violence in the last two years. KPFT was knocked off the air in the spring and fall of 1970 when its trans-mitter was dynamited. The mitter was dynamited. The Socialist headquarters were bombed on March 12 of this year. Previously and sub-sequently, night riders have fired rifles into it.

Other Places Bombed

Other Places Bombed Other bombings believed in-spired by right-wing terrorists in Houston include the bomb-ing of a hippie cafe, the Family Hand Restaurant; a motorcycle shop, Sport Cycles of Houston, and an architect's office. The four men indicted today were identified by the grand jury as Louis R. Beam Jr., 24 years old, a salesman; Peter Lout Jr., 26, a construction worker; Jimmy Dale Hutto, 24, a chemical worker, and Paul William Moratto, 24, an elec-trician.

Mrain Moratto, 24, an elec-trician. Mr. Beam and Mr. Moratto have described themselves as public relations men for the Ku Klux Klan. A klan leader also said that Mr. Beam was a mem-ber of the klant known of ber of the klan's bureau of investigation.

Misc II - MAK

filtrated left-wing organizations through its bureau of investiga-tion and that it had uncovered evidence that it had uncovered ganizations planned disturb-s ances in Houston this summer. J Mr. Converse was called as a witness last week by the grand jury but he said he had refused to testify, citing the First, Fifth and 14th Amendments to the Constitution as a reason.

Constitution as a reason. The klansman said that he planned to run for sheriff in Houston on a platform 'of sheets and sawed-off shotguns.' The United Klans, which Mr. Converse heads in Texas, is as-sociated with the United Klans of America headed by Robert M. Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala. Mr. Converse said he did not Mr. Converse said he did not believe that any klansmen had been involved in any of the bombings in Houston. None of the four men indicted today had been arrested late

None of the four men indicted today had been arrested late this afternoon, although Mr. Hutto already was in Federal custody on a charge of conspir-ing with Mr. Moratto to dyna-mite Pacifica Foundation radio stations in California. The two men were arrested in February by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as they were of Investigation as they were driving toward California. Mr. Moratto was released

Moratto Was released from jail in February on $3,500 bail on the Federal charge. State District Judge Edmund Duggan set bonds of $10,000 on the charges brought against the four men today. The grand jury began its in-vestigation late last month after clamor from a number of liberal organizations that the police organizations that the police were making no attempt to ar-rest right-wing terrorists. The names of several alleged ter-rorists were made public as long as a year ago.

The Pacifica Foundation's nonprofit, listener-financed ra-dio stations, including WBAI in New York, have given access to a wide variety of advocates and have frequently ben the center of free-speech contro-versies.

In 1969, for example, the reading of an allegedly anti-Semitic poem by a black mili-tant over WBAI generated wide protests, a flurry of bomb threats and a withdrawal of support by hundreds of sub-soribers scribers.

T1- -!-

Bomb threats to WBALS SIS fer stations in Los Angeles and Berkeley have also been reported.

In 1963, the Senate Internal Security subcommittee conducted an extended investigation of charges that the Pacifica sta-tions had been infiltrated by the Communist party, but the charges never were substantiated.

On several occasions, renew-al of Pacifica's broadcasting li-cense has been opposed on the ground that four-letter words had been used on the air.