DALLAS, Tex. AP - Three cities—two in Texas and one in Arkansas—were rocked Saturday night by bombs and a rocket device designed to scatter leaflets aimed at "socialism and bureaucracy."

There were no injuries and damage was believed less than $2,000.

Dallas and Carthage, Tex., and Little Rock, Ark., were the blast scenes. In each instance, the explosions were set off—one apparently from a low-flying airplane—near or in the downtown sections.

The leaflets bore a "Minuteman" signature and were headed, "Fight the Parasites," "Stop the Bureaucratic Tyrants," and "Death to Socialism."

Bursting Bombs Scatter Hate Leaflets in 3 Cities

DALLAS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Bursting bombs scattered right-wing hate leaflets in Dallas, Carthage, Tex., and Little Rock, Ark., Saturday night. Damage was believed to be less than $2,000.

The leaflets, right-wing literature directed at socialism and bureaucracy, bore a "minutemen" signature and were headed "Fight the Parasites," "Stop the Bureaucratic Tyrants" and "Death to Socialism."

The bomb blast in Dallas occurred in a parking lot near the First Baptist Church and the offices of the Internal Revenue Service.

The Little Rock blast was in a parking lot of television station KTHV. A plane was believed to have dropped the third bomb at Carthage. A number of cars were damaged.
