

Goldwater Well Guarded

Guards invoked tight security at the private entrance to the Cow Palace used by presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

No one was allowed to go out the entrance. Said one guard:

"We don't want another November 22nd. We're trying to prevent the assassination of another President."