

Walter Winchell
Photoplay Magazine

Lee Harvey Oswald's widow Marina may be a bride by the time this appears in print, according to people close to the Warren Commission. She has become quite sophisticated since she became a front-pager and is expected to make a fortune lecturing about her youth in Russia and her life with the man accused of slaying JFK in Dallas. . . . Her No. 1 beauance is believed to be a Russian-speaking insurance man.

*