'Ruby Will Be Committed'

Jack Ruby, facing death by electrocution for the murder of accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, will be committed to a Texas insane asylum within the next month, attorney Melvin Belli predicted yesterday.

"I have reliable information from Dallas that the authorities are now finally cognizant of the fact that Ruby is and was insane and that he belongs in an asylum—not in the death house," Belli said. Belli, no longer officially connected with the Ruby case, said he could not reveal the source of his information.

"But it comes from high up and it's accurate . . . Jack Ruby is going to be committed," Belli said.
