F.B.I. IS ACCUSED OF CAMPUS SPYING

State Investigating Charges at Brockport College

Special to The New York Times BROCKPORT, N.Y., March 9 —State University officials said today that they were studying charges that Federal agents had recruited or tried to re-cruit Brockport College faculty members to spy on other teach-ers and report on their political views. views.

Dr. Samuel B. Gould, the president of the university, and Dr. Albert W. Brown, the pres-ident of the college, which is part of the university, said they were seeking more information on the charges, which were made before two faculty or-ganizations ganizations.

ganizations. The two groups at the col-lege of arts and sciences, which is 17 miles north of Rochester and which has 3,000 students, have endorsed resolutions at-tacking the alleged recruiting of faculty members by agents of the Federal Bureau of In-vestigation and the Central In-telligence Agency.

vestigation and the Central In-telligence Agency. The Brockport chapter of the American Association of Uni-versity Professors unanimously passed the first resolution two weeks ago. A college chaplain had reported to the chapter that a teacher told him that the teacher had been "watching and informing on" other facul-ty members for the F.B.I. for the last five years. Second Incident Reported The Faculty Senate, the col-lege's 27-member policy board, endorsed the chapter's resolu-tion four days later after hear-ing a professor say that F.B.I. agents asked him two years ago to spy on other teachers. School officials, including the chaplain, the Rev. John Mes-serschmitt, refused today to re-veal the names of the teachers who had allegedly been con-tacted. Neil J. Welch, agent-in-charge of the F.B.I.'s Buf-falo office, declined to comment on the charges. Both Dr. Brown and Hakira Sanbonmatsu, the president of the professors' chapter, empha-seized in interviews today that Brockport officials had not been able to substantiate the alleged actions on the words of the two teachers. The resolution passed by the chapter, which represents 80 of 300 faculty members, included these words: "The A.A.U.P. has become aware of [intelligence] ac--tivities on this campus in a manner which threatens to in-timidate the faculty . . . and deplores attempts on the part of Federal intelligence agencies to encourage members of the faculty to engage in such activi-ties on the campus." At a closed meeting of the Faculty Senate, the same reso-lution was endorsed by a vote of 26-1. A professor told the Senate he was approached by an F.B.I. agent after he had de-fended Administration policy during a Vietnam teach-in in April, 1965.

The professor told the Senate, according to Dr. Brown, that he had been asked to "watch and inform on" the activities of pro-

Although the F.B.I. was men-tioned at both meetings, Mr. Sanbonmatsu said, many teachers believe the C.I.A. was involved in the alleged incidents because of recent disclosures of C.I.A. links with student groups. "I know it's all unbelieveable," he added, "but we believe the unbelievable." The Brockport chapter of the State University Federation of Teachers later called on Dr. Gould to investigate the situation.
