Ehrlichman Admits FBI Election Aid

Washington - (AP) - President Nixon's top domestic adviser, John Ehrlichman, conceded today that a directive soliciting FBI information for political campaign purposes was sent out by a Justice Department subordinate, but Ehrlichman said he disapproved of it and later ordered it halted.

White House Tells 'Mistake'

Washington [UPI] -

"The Justice Department has to be involved in politics as distinct from the FBI," [Ehrlichman] commented. "The Justice Department has to be responsive to the political system. The Attorney General should be a political appointee. He should be responsible to the political will of the people."
