Allies for McGovern

Frank Mankiewicz, the Washington columnist who was press secretary to the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy, is expected to join George S. McGovern's presidential campaign this week.

There could be a last-minute hitch, but Mr. Mankiewicz's appointment is expected to be announced tomorrow, along with his decision to give up the syndicated column he has been writing with Tom Braden. Mr. Braden will continue the column.

Mr. Mankiewicz, who is 47 years old, would be the experienced hand on a generally youthful staff. He said he is an old man's man on strategy and speech-writing. Albin Krebs

A new memoir of Robert F. Kennedy adds some fresh details to the story of the running feud between the Senator and J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Edwin Guthman, a close associate of Mr. Kennedy when the latter was Attorney General, writes in "We Band of Brothers" that Mr. Kennedy came to regard Mr. Hoover as unforgivably cold and ultimately untrustworthy in the years after President Kennedy's assassination. Mr. Guthman, now national editor of The Los Angeles Times, called Mr. Hoover's icy treatment of Robert Kennedy "cruel."

King Olav V entered a hospital in Oslo for a check-up because of an ulcer condition. He was expected to remain there two days. The 68-year-old monarch, a former student at Balliol College at Oxford, succeeded his father, King Haakon VII, to the throne on Sept. 21, 1957.
