

46 San Francisco Chronicle Fri., Feb. 4, 1972

AP Wirephoto

Hoover Dogs

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover—long known for his tough line against lawbreakers — apparently has a soft spot in his heart for dogs. Down through the years, Hoover has buried seven dogs in the Aspen Hill Pet Cemetery in Washington. The dogs are buried in a 6 by 8-foot site that cost $200. The first dog buried there, Spee De Bozo, has a grave marker, the rest do not. Hoover currently has two Cairn terriers, Gee-Boy and Cindy.