That Morning

Agents' Drinking Rapped

riding behind President John F. Kennedy took a few drinks in violation of rules in the early hours of that day, the Warren Commission reported.

they humanly could when the fatal bullets struck. The response of some of them "was in the finest tradition of government service."

THE COMMISSION gave this account:

Nine agents went off for a bite to eat, they stopped in at the Fort Worth Press Club. No food was available, but they stayed for periods up to an hour and a half. Some drank beer - but no more than three glasses - and some drank mixed drinks - but no more than 1½ drinks each.

- Four Secret Service men en proceeding to the Cellar this case "might have given ding behind President Coffee House that serves vise to an inference that the Coffee House that serves rise to an inference that the no alcoholic beverages.

*ALL HAD assignments to guard Kennedy, beginning no later than 8 a. m. But the commission emphasized that they did all signed to the backup car behind the President's limousine - three on the running board, ready to dart forward at every stop and in emergencies, the fourth inside the car.

Another agent was asthe Trade Mart, where Kennedy was headed when he was slain.

The commission quoted a regulation prohibiting drinking by White House agents while on the road with the President. Violation is cause for removal.

WASHINGTON - (AP) nine retired, the other sev-1he felt disciplinary action in violation of the regulation had contributed to the tragic events of Nov. 22."

Since he was convinced that this was not the case, he testified, it would be unfair to the agents and their families to take explicit disciplinary measures.

THE COMMISSION acknowledged that mem-bers of the White House detail work long, hard hours "under very great strain."

It said:
"It might seem harsh to circumscribe their opportunities for relaxation. Yet their role of protecting the President is so important to the well-being of the country that it is reasonable to expect them to meet very high standards of personal conduct, so that nothing can interfere with their bringing to their task the finest rinks each.

At 2 a. m., two of the Chief James J. Rowley said sources of mind and body."

* see Drew Pearson, this file, Sept. 29

SEZRET

SEC.

That Morning

Agents' Drinking Rapped

behind President John F. Kennedy took a few drinks in violation of rules in the early hours of that day, the Warren Commission reported.

But the commission emphasized that they did all they humanly could when the fatal bullets struck. The response of some of them "was in the finest tradition of government service."

THE COMMISSION gave this account:

Nine agents went off duty about midnight Nov. for a bite to eat, they stopped in at the Fort Worth Press Club. No food was available, but they stayed for periods up to an hour and a half. Some drank beer - but no more than three glasses — and some drank mixed drinks but no more than 11/2 drinks each.

Four Secret Service men en proceeding to the Cellar this case "might have given Coffee House that serves rise to an inference that the > to guard Kennedy, beginning no later than 8 a.m. that day. Four were assigned to the backup car behind the President's limousine - three on the running board, ready to dart forward at every stop and in emergencies, the fourth inside the car.

Another agent was assigned to Love Field, where 21 in Fort Worth. Hoping Four more were assigned to the Trade Mart, where Kennedy was headed when he was slain.

The commission quoted a regulation prohibiting drinking by White House agents while on the road with the President. Violation is cause for removal.

WASHINGTON - (AP) nine retired, the other sev- he felt disciplinary action in no alcoholic beverages. violation of the regulation ALL HAD assignments had contributed to the tragic events of Nov. 22."

Since he was convinced that this was not the case, he testified, it would be unfair to the agents and their families to take explicit disciplinary measures.

THE COMMISSION acknowledged that mem-bers of the White House detail work long, hard hours "under very great strain."

It said:
"It might seem harsh to circumscribe their opportunities for relaxation. Yet their role of protecting the President is so important to the well-being of the country that it is reasonable to expect them to meet very high standards of personal conduct, so that nothing can interfere with their bringing to their task the finest rinks each.

BUT SECRET Service qualities and maximum reAt 2 a. m., two of the Chief James J. Rowley said sources of mind and body."