"Alan Cranston is an out and out hawk," Bennett charg-ed, "despite what he will tell you. He led the fight to destroy the CDC (California Democratic Council) as a will-ing agent of President Johnson because he believed in the war and he believed in Johnson.

"After the New Hampshire "After the New Hampshire victory of McCarthy," he said, Cranston decided to become some kind of a dove. Well he's noi really a dove. He doesn't say whether we should stay or get out (of Vietnam.) He says turn the fighting over to the Vietnamese. That's how this whole thing started."

As for his other opponent, "young Sen Bielenson," Ben-nott labeled him "a parrot. He discovered the war about six months ago because the Gallup Polis were telling all the politicians it's safe now to the politicians it's safe now to be against the war ... and I suppose it is," Bennett said. -Bennett condemned the Viet-
