

[First part of item not heard.]

"' ... very, very sordid chapter in American history, because I cannot countenance the concept of an agency of the United States Government being involved in assassination plans directed against foreign leaders in peace-time.'

"[David W.] Belin also said, and National Archivist James Rhoads confirmed, that the Warren Commission had no authority to stamp its records secret, so chairwoman Bella Abzug*demanded they all now be released.

"Daniel Schorr, CBS News, on Capitol Hill."

*[Government Operations Subcommittee on Government Information and Individual Rights, House of Representatives]