by Martin Waldron
Special to The New York Times

Dallas, Jan. 16 - Jesse E. Curry, retired police chief of Dallas, has suggested in a book [JFK Assassination File] just published that the entire circumstances surrounding the assassination of President Kennedy may not have been told.

"Speculative magazine and newspaper reports led the public [to] believe that numerous eyewitnesses positively indentified Lee Harvey Oswald as the sniper in the sixth floor window. The testimony of the people who watched the motorcade was much more confusing than either the press or the Warren Commission seemed to indicate." [Quote from book.]
